Wisdom is of such a nature, that no man in this world can comprehend her as she really is. Nevertheless everyone strives to the full extent of his understanding, to understand her if he may. But wisdom is able to understand us completely. For Wisdom is God.

Alfred the Great

DEDICATION

The Class of 1966 dedicates its Talisman to
MR. PETER GOSHGARIAN

His fine work as a member of the Business Department, and his interested attitude toward all of the students of this school have warranted Mr. Goshgarian's promotions to Assistant Principal and Chairman of the Business Department this year. His sense of organization and practicality joined with experience in teaching make him the ideal choice for these posts. Although his responsibilities are greater now, Mr. Goshgarian has continued to devote his time to individual students in the true spirit of a fine teacher.

As Senior Class Advisor he has shown that he can ably assist us in the planning and execution of our many and varied activities. Our committees had head starts on their various projects because of his foresight, and the chairmen and officers of the class have had an easier time this year because of his concern for our endeavors. Our success as a class is evidence of his competence as an advisor.

To this man of high caliber we give a wish for the best of luck and this record of the Class of 1966 — The Talisman.

FOREWORD

This year, 1965-1966, however brief it may have seemed, has marked the end of one way of life and the beginning of another. We will become a part of the fast moving society in which we now live. This transition will, therefore, be an important moment in our lives.

Perhaps we will gain some wisdom in our adjustment. What is meant by wisdom is not yet a certainty. Some of the most intelligent men from every walk of life have expressed their viewpoints, and yet no two are in complete agreement. In Rutland High School we have statues of six of these great men — Hippocrates, Demosthenes, Homer, Michaelangelo, Cicero, and Shakespeare. Their pictures and some of their words of wisdom have been placed throughout this yearbook to make us aware that their thoughts, written centuries ago, are still true today. Maybe if we put our thoughts together with these, we will touch upon the surface of a deeper understanding of mankind and his purpose on Earth.

Because memories of past experiences are always treasured in later years, we have gathered pictures of the teachers, classes, activities, and sports known to each member of the Class of 1966. Though parted in many separate directions, we can always bring back a happy moment by just opening a book — this book. Who knows — maybe there is a bit of wisdom between its covers. It is yours to find, and your search may end with unmatched personal Wisdom.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Graduation Day, 1966

Dear Graduates of the Class of 1966:

It is with a great deal of pride that I write to you, the Class of 1966. Not only are you a class of whom we are all proud, but yours is the first class to graduate since I have become Rutland's Superintendent of Schools. Individually and collectively you have had many noteworthy accomplishments. A brief glance through the pages of this fine yearbook gives evidence of that fact. But enough of the past -- let us look to the future.

Today you are passing a milestone in an educational process which must be life-long. During your tenure at Rutland High School we have tried to provide you with the best education which was possible. It is now your responsibility to continue your education which will be largely self-directed. You will need to continually keep yourself up-to-date on current events, technological developments, and new ideas.

As young adults you are our country's greatest asset. Most of you will spend some portion of your life in the 21st century. Many will be working at jobs that now do not even exist. You will have more opportunities and leisure time than any previous generation. We all hope you will take full advantage of the many benefits which will be yours.

Congratulations on your past accomplishments, and sincere best wishes for a happy, successful and productive life ahead.

Sincerely yours,

William A. Atkins, Jr.
Superintendent of Schools

To the Class of 1966:

Congratulations!

Your senior year is now about to become a new chapter in the history of R. H. S. The Talisman stands as a record of the achievements of your class and the important events of the year. Final examinations, commencement activities, permanent or summer jobs, military service, and further educational plans are now commanding your attention. You are approaching that time in your life when you will have greater independence than you ever have had before, and you are looking forward to being "on your own". Yet, independence without the wisdom to use it properly, can lead to disaster.

Today, the world is changing more rapidly than at any time in history. You of the Class of 1966 are likely to be more affected by these changes than has any previous graduating class. Quoting from the History of Rutland High School as it appeared in the 1955 Talisman on the occasion of our school's one hundredth anniversary, "----- what we meet today and must face tomorrow is a product of the past; and what is more important, that knowledge which is gleaned from by-gone days is a most reliable tool for gauging the present and planning the future."

Perhaps, that is another way of saying that the wisdom of the great men and women of the past cannot be ignored, but rather must serve to guide you in the use of the knowledge of the present and the even greater knowledge which is becoming available for our use each year.

May each of you have the wisdom to use your new-found independence and the knowledge you have acquired, and will acquire, for the betterment of mankind and a rich and satisfying personal life.

With sincere good wishes,

Maynard C. Robinson
 Principal

If he ever does that again —

You guys want an A, you pay.

Dear John,

And that's why the wind blows in London.

I swallowed it!

And here's Maynard's lunch money.

Gee, Jim, you didn't have to get all dressed up.

Ooh, those center fold-outs!

Where's the embalming room?

I thought it was a fake bookcover.

Mr. LePage leads by a breadcrumb.

Where have all the flowers gone?

PLEASE — Miss Moran!

Wait till no-one's looking!?

I wonder what kind of fish my students put in here!

That greasy kid's stuff!

Well—it all started when my mother wouldn't buy me a little red tricycle.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As you probably know, the theme of our Talisman this year is Wisdom. When a person, especially an older person, speaks about wisdom we immediately think of an old man who always knows the answer or does the right thing. Wisdom also brings to mind a dull drawn out lecture which means nothing to us. But I think wisdom is something completely different. To me it means "common sense." That old man has gathered common sense throughout his lifetime, but we, too, possess wisdom. We have learned the process of math, and the logic of science. We are wise to the ways of language and history. The Trade and Technical Department has given many insights into the workings of the mechanical world. Each in his own way is wiser than when he came to Rutland High.

Now our education here is drawing to a close. A world of approximately three and one half billion people is working "out there." The knowledge and wisdom we have received here will prepare us for our life's task. I sincerely hope that each member of the Class of '66 will achieve his goals and later, when we become "old men and women", we will be able to recall the years at Rutland High as the richest and most enjoyable of our lives.

Sincerely,

Dave Hodgson

THE PRODIGIOUS SNOB

On November 18, 19, and 20, the class of 1966 presented "The Prodigious Snob," an English version of the comedy play "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" by Moliere.

Taking place in sixteenth century France, this play concerns the wealthy merchant, Monsieur Jourdain, played by Joe McLaughlin, who attempts to attain the image of high culture to impress a countess, Dorimene, played by Linda Barker. To help him achieve his goal he employs a music master, Clark Eaton; a dancing master, Robbie Wyman; a fencing master, Brian King; and a philosopher, Chester Burton. After Greg Chioffi, the tailor, brings Jourdain his "clothes", Nicole, Dee Dee Spencer, makes her entrance, followed closely by Dale Wilson, who plays the role of Madame Jourdain. The shrewd nobleman Count Dorante, Bob Bloomer, takes full advantage of his title as far as Monsieur Jourdain is concerned. He, too, is in love with Dorimene and vice versa.

The part of Lucille, Jourdain's daughter, was played by Nancy Barone. She is in love with Cleonte, Ted Mudd, but her father refuses to give his consent for marriage because Cleonte is not a nobleman. Nicole and Cleonte's servant, Covielle, played by Jady Davine are also in love. The climax of the play is Covielle's attempt to outwit Jourdain by disguising himself and telling Jourdain that Cleonte is the son of the Grand Turk. Jourdain believes everything and agrees to allow the "Son" to marry his daughter after he is made a "Mamamouchie" in a very elaborate ceremony. Lucille refuses to co-operate at first, but as soon as she discovers that the "Son" is really Cleonte, she consents to marriage. Jourdain, very happy with the outcome, never realizes that he has been tricked.

The entire casts wishes to thank Mr. LePage, director of the play, for helping to make the play such a success.

"I can't help it. Oh, master — what a sight."

"I must have angered you. But how, and why, and when?"

"But I can see something far lovelier."

"What's this I hear? You war' to marry my daughter to a heathen Turk?"

"Quite unrecognizable. I shouldn't know you, Monsieur. A great triumph, I'm satisfied."

"Then you'll take the full curriculum of music?"

They are Joan Burke, treasurer; Linda Lash, secretary; Glenn Morgan, vice president; and Robert Bloomer, president.

The Council, meeting on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, is the student governing body of the school. It conducts homeroom competition, deals with student complaints, promotes school entertainment, and makes rules governing the student body. Each month it selects a Junior Lion and a Student of the Month.

The Council's year's activities are highlighted by the presentation of a program to the public as an American Field Service fund raising project.

MONITORS

Monitors stationed in the halls set good examples for the student body. —Chaz???

Under the leadership of Miss Katherine Moran, faculty advisor, and Imants Vitols, head monitor, the monitor squad did a tremendous job directing traffic in all corners of the senior high school. The monitors are chosen in the junior year on the basis of their leadership qualities and their ability to take on responsibility.

Each year the monitor squad sponsors a Christmas dance, "Noel Blanc", put on by this year's squad, was very successful. Sandra Olson, representing Homeroom 103, was chosen queen of the dance.

Each summer the American Legion sponsors Girls' and Boys' State where students from all over Vermont meet to learn the principles of democracy and government. The program lasts for a week with boys at Norwich University in Northfield and girls at Vermont College in Montpelier. Each group forms its own government beginning on the "town" level and proceeding to "state" level by staging elections and holding campaigns. In addition to governmental activities, intertown athletic events, and a final Girls' State—Boys' State dance are held.

Last spring eleven boys and five girls plus alternates were selected in their junior year by the faculty at R.H.S. to attend. They were chosen on the basis of their qualities of leadership, character, scholastic achievement and their interest in government. The Rutland delegation was further honored by the election of Dale Wilson as Lieutenant Governor.

G. A. A.

Dale sells pennants to show the G.A.A.'s school spirit.

G.A.A., the Girls' Athletic Association, under the competent leadership of Miss Ruth MacDonald, sponsored many activities during the school year. In the spring and fall they hosted "tasting suppers" in the school cafeteria. Near St. Valentine's day the group put on its annual Sadie Hawkin's Dance. This year the theme was "Dog Paich, U.S.A." Sue Potter was crowned Daisy Mae and Robert Bloomer, her escort, was crowned L'il Abner. On several occasions they provided busses to football and basketball games. At home games they sold R.H.S. pennants and helped pay for the football scoreboard by selling R.H.S. pins for the Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

Officers for the year were: Laura Myers, President; Ruth Dagg, Vice-President; Jodee Bishop, Secretary; and Joanne Spoon, Treasurer.

VARSITY CLUB

The main goal of the Varsity Club at R.H.S. is to promote good sportsmanship and better athletics in the school. The membership consists of boys who have earned a letter in any sport; basketball, football, golf, skiing, track, or baseball.

The club's activities include ushering at home basketball games, sponsoring slides of the M.S.J.—Rutland football game, and holding a dance in the spring. They also present an assembly and participate in their own basketball team. The club created the R.H.S. Code of Good Sportsmanship. Faculty advisor for the group is Mr. Keefe.

The Mimes Club, under the direction of the school librarian, Mrs. Elizabeth Greene, is a dramatic organization which presents plays to the school at special assemblies. Members consist of those students who are interested in dramatics and who qualify by reading a literary passage before the club. Meeting on the first and third Wednesdays of each month, Mimes plans these plays as well as holds makeup workshops for interested members. The club assists in the One-Act Play competition, with the Senior Play, and in general, functions as a service club for the school.

ONE ACT PLAY

IMPROMPTU

by Ted Mosel

This year's one-act play, directed by Mr. Henry LePage and assisted by Peter Marsh, is about four "type" characters on a stage without a director, who decide to improvise a play. Ernest, Jady Davine, the "leading man" exercises the prerogative of star billing and assumes command. He assigns roles to himself and his colleagues — Winifred, Deidre Spencer, who always plays the "leading lady's best friend," Lora, Nancy Barone, the struggling ingenue, and Tony, the juvenile lad. These characters illustrate the timeless theme: what should be the proper ratio of truth vs. illusion in the balanced life?

Among these were the giving of Christmas baskets, the conduction of various field trips to companies and shops in the state, shop clean-up contests, and the presentation of a class ring to the American Field Service exchange student at R.H.S. The Council is also creating a border of shrubbery around the Trade and Technical block of the school and planning a picnic area to be built somewhere in Rutland County for public use. The group conducted a hobby contest for the Junior High School during the latter part of the school year.

Various committees led by Kenneth Bates, Norman Pratt, Edward Adams, and Daniel Hogan also help to make the Council successful.

This year was one of which the members should be proud, as they revived the long forgotten I.R.C. emblem, showed an enthusiastic interest in the Warren R. Austin Commemorative stamp, and donated a sum of money to benefit the R.H.S. student chosen by the American Field Service Program to represent the school abroad. To complete the year, books from last year's drive were sent to India.

COACH TETA

As a small token of appreciation, the Class of 1966 dedicates the sports section to Mr. Joseph V. Teta, inspiring teacher and devoted coach.

His football teams have dazzled the southern portion of the state of Vermont, and in the past two years the Tetamen have lost only two games, tied two, and won twelve. They have chopped the home field advantage theory to shreds by winning eight successive road games.

His J. V. basketball teams also meet his high standards, bringing home trophy after trophy, and providing the varsity with well coached talent.

His initiation of the pre-season road trip through New York State with the Raider baseball team has made history. He has defeated the Green Wave on the diamond numerous times, and is one of the persons responsible for the formation of a new and better high school baseball league.

If the future proves to be as successful as the past, Rutland High School may look forward to coming years with eagerness. Long after "53-7" is forgotten, the Class of '66, and the "sports" in particular, will remember Coach Teta.

Coaches: James Leamy, Joseph Teta.
Tri-captains: Mike Murphy, Crandy Grant, Rick Pratt.

1965 FOOTBALL SEASON REVIEW

The 1965 edition of the Red Raiders enjoyed a successful 6-1-1 season, and added the final touch by smashing M.S.J. 53-7. Senior quarterback Butch Morgan broke a school record for touchdown passes by throwing thirteen, two more than the old record which he set two years ago as a sophomore. Senior halfback Mike Murphy was well on the way towards breaking a school record for scoring when he suffered a knee injury, which derailed him for the remainder of the season. Senior fullback John Morse scored the highest number of points in one game for the Raiders this season. The big fullback carried the Mounties for more than 100 yards in his last showing as a Raider. Senior ends, Rick Pratt and Dave Hodgson, formed the nucleus of the passing game. When Pratt was injured early in the season, Junior Dave Goodspeed filled his shoes at right end. Hodgson was the team's high scorer with 48 points including 7 touchdowns coming on picture perfect tosses from Morgan. Wingback Crandy Grant exhibited versatility to its extreme. The Senior speedster returned punts and kickoffs excellently. His best showing was against Hartford, when he exploded for a 64 yard punt return. Senior guards, Bob Sharp and Jim Kent, probably the lightest combo in the SVL, turned in excellent performances. Walt Ladabouche turned in his usual commendable job at tackle. The other tackle, whom many justly consider as the best in the State, was Arnie James. The opposition would probably refer to Arnie as "Pains James". Tommy Neary, who knows as much about the safety spot as anybody, did a great job for the third year.

Under the able coaching of Joseph Teta and James Leamy, the Raiders achieved second place in the league again this year, and the first defeat of M.S.J. in six years.

BASKETBALL

In his record year as coach of the Red Raiders, James Leamy led the tall Rutland High team to a second place in the SVL. The fine 16-4 record was due mainly to the rebounding efforts of six-foot nine inch Senior Ed Wright, six-foot six inch Junior Bob Pratt, six-foot four inch Junior Bill Minogue, and the excellent ball handling and shooting of Seniors Tom Neary, Clark Eaton, Ed Robinson, and Butch Morgan. Seldom in the Raiders' games was there a star, but rather it was the combined hustle of the team that made the difference between victory and defeat. Included in the Leamymen's victories were two over Mount St. Joseph giving Rutland the intra-city championship and a clean sweep in basketball and football. The only defeats came at the hands of league leading Bennington Catholic, both low scoring games, a heart-breaker to Windsor "on the stage", and an early-season loss to Bellows Falls. More than once the Raiders jumped out to an early lead, thus breaking the spirit of the opponent; and maintained this lead throughout the game.

This giant team with the dribbling magic of Tom Neary won't soon be forgotten at R.H.S.

The cross country team had a fine 7 and 3 season including wins over U.V.M. freshmen and Stevens of New Hampshire. Mr. Short's runners had great spirit, but lack of depth and almost no student support marred their otherwise good season.

Coach Monk Martin's ski team had a good season this year with outstanding performances by Crandy Grant, Arnie Kirback, and Mike Scott. Grant was an all-around performer, winning the Skimeister for the second year. Kirback placed second in jumping in the state meet.

Brigham (co-captain), A. James, D. Hogan (mgr.).

This year the indoor track team coached by Hugh Short had a fine season running at Dartmouth and U.V.M. Seniors Dick Brigham, Ron Savage, and Arnie James turned in fine performances all year in their events, winning many times for the Raiders.

The Girls' Varsity Basketball team had a good ten game season; winning six and losing four. They defeated such teams as Woodstock, Ludlow, Middlebury, Chester, and St. Joseph The Provider. Their most notable game was against Chester in which they came from behind (16 points) to win by a nerve-racking 3.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This yearbook is the result of the co-operation of the many staff members on both the Editorial Staff and the Business Board. For the first time in many years the Talisman was under the direction of one head. Perhaps this made the two staffs work closer as one unit. As a result the editors would like to thank:

Mr. Brusa, advisor to both the Editorial Staff and Business Board, for his extreme patience and effort.

Mr. Norm Porter, class photographer, for his co-operation and fine photography.

Mr. Thomas Barton, our publisher, for his help and advice in planning the layout of the book.

Miss Sally Jenne, art editor, for designing the cover and the opening and closing pages of the book.

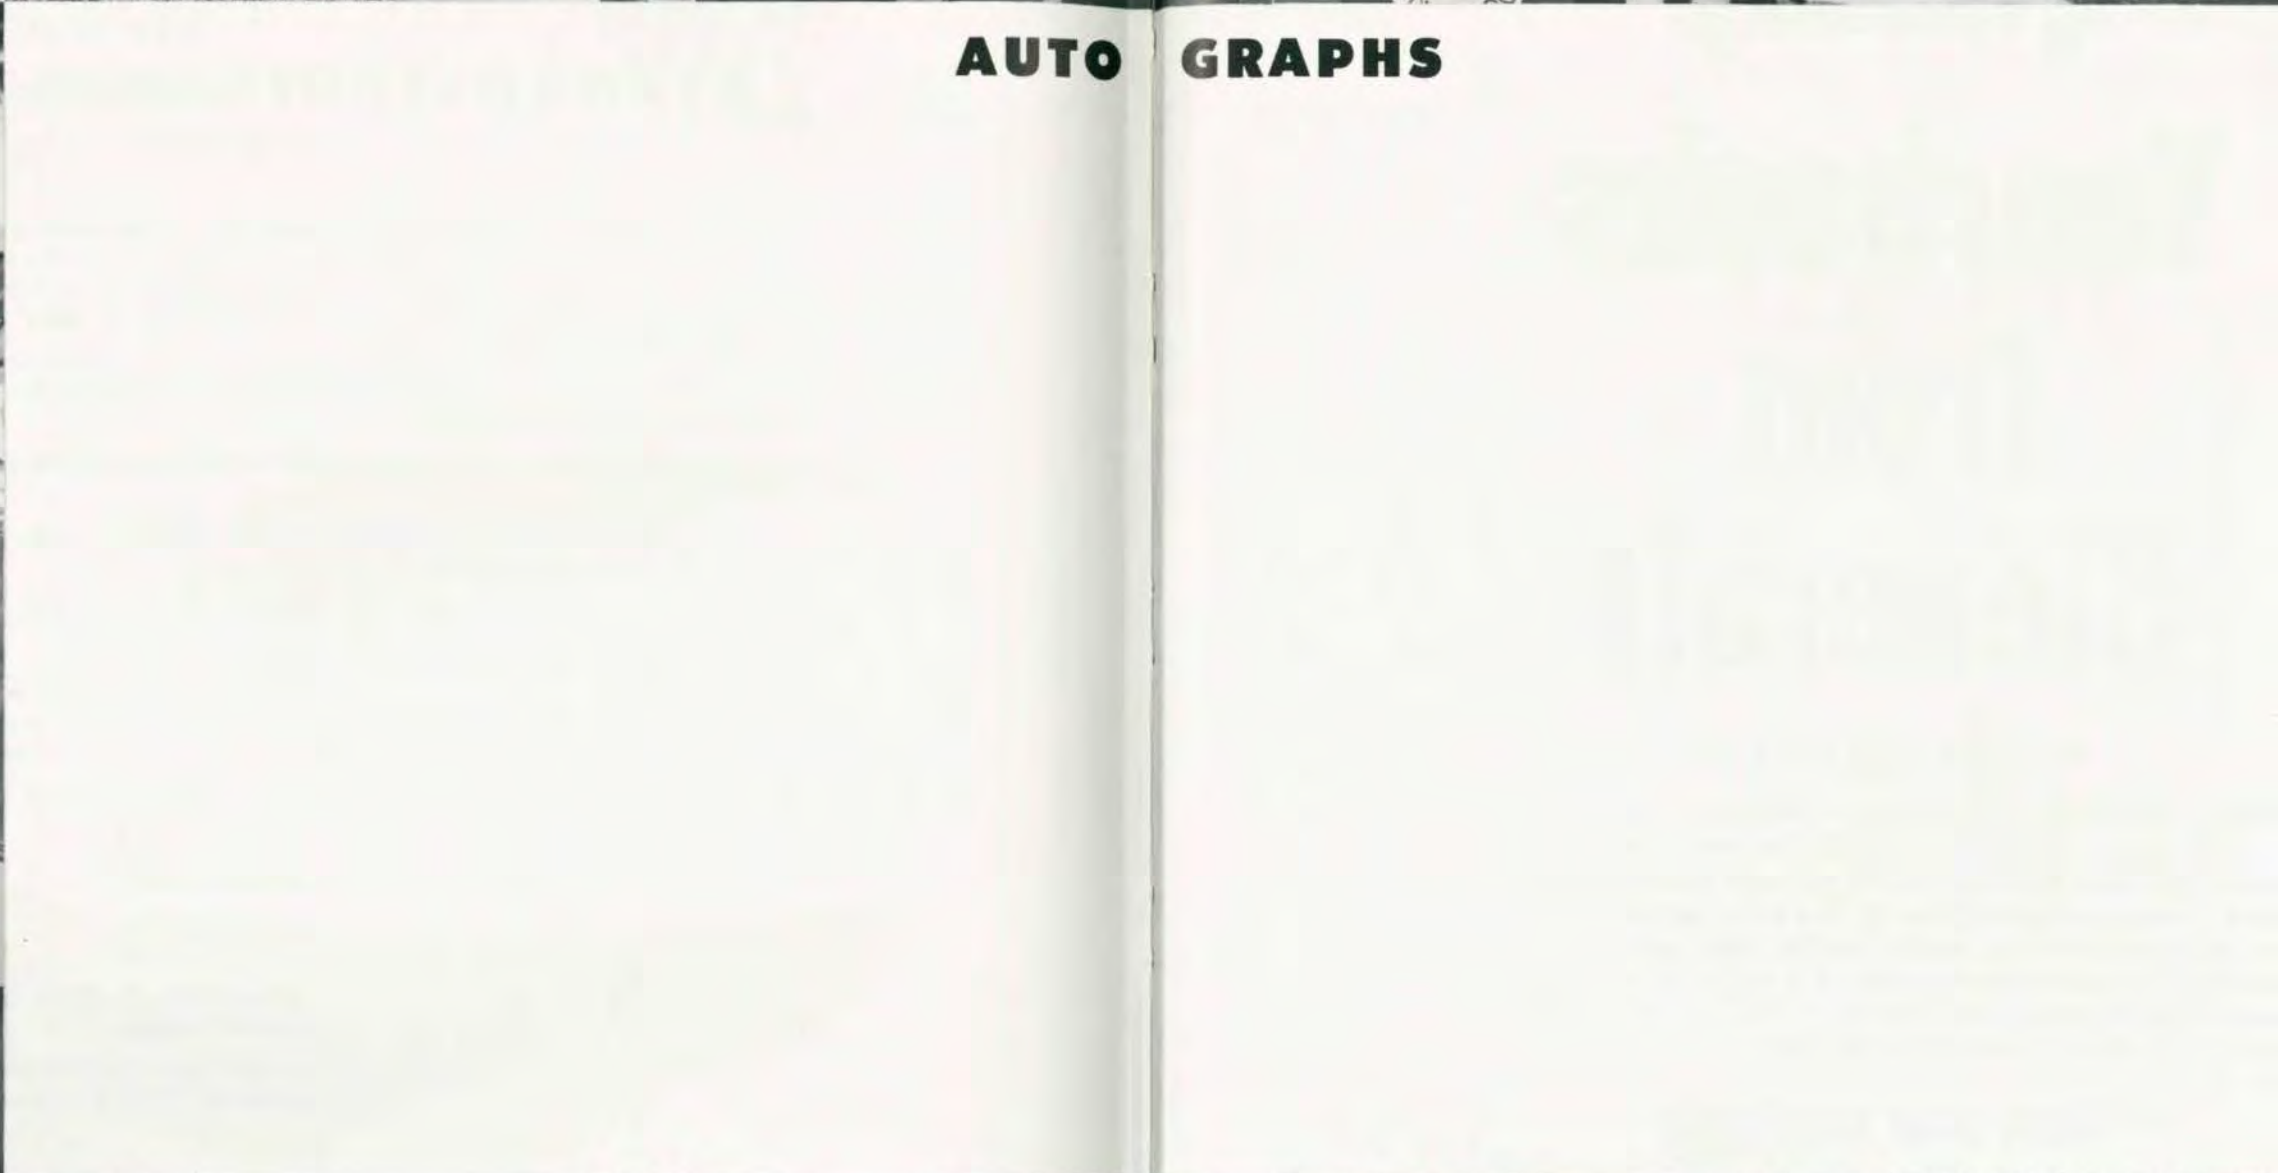

Imants Vitols and David Sharp for their candid photography.

The layout staff and typists, with special thanks to Karen Noble, layout editor, and Linda Barker, head typist.

The Patrons and Advertisers for their financial support of the Talisman.

Quality Yearbooks from Glencraft

$$4E + 10Y \times \frac{PA}{BW} = Q + SC$$

Simply translated, this equation states that the unsurpassed energy, education, enthusiasm and experience of Glencraft, when added to the 10 years of successful yearbook printing and multiplied by bi-weekly personal advice of our representative equals quality plus satisfied customers. Too often sacrificed for a lower price, too seldom honored as a higher goal, quality is the keystone at Glencraft. If quality is something you admire - - -
